TEACHER OF THE YEAR — 1973

Teaching and learning is what Lincoln College is all about. Students, faculty, counselors, administrators, and staff — all have a vital role to play in strengthening the environment of the college so that learning can more effectively take place.

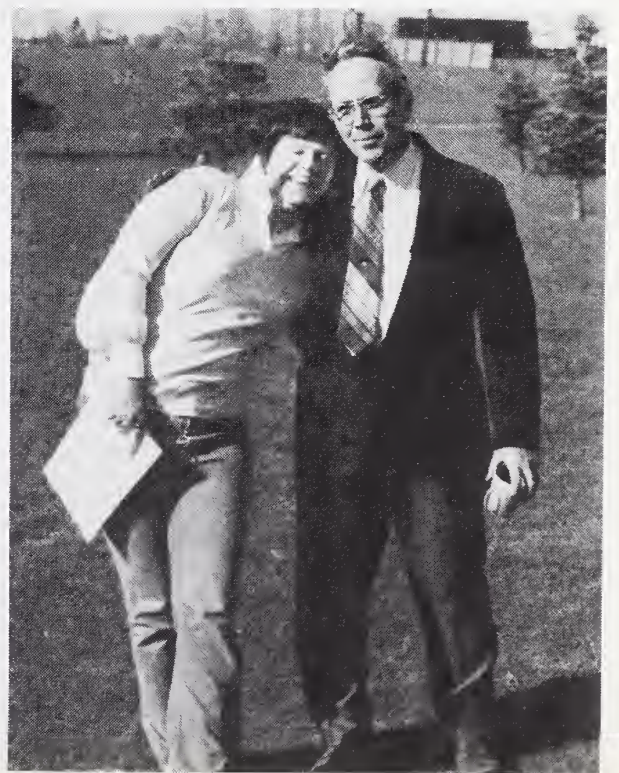

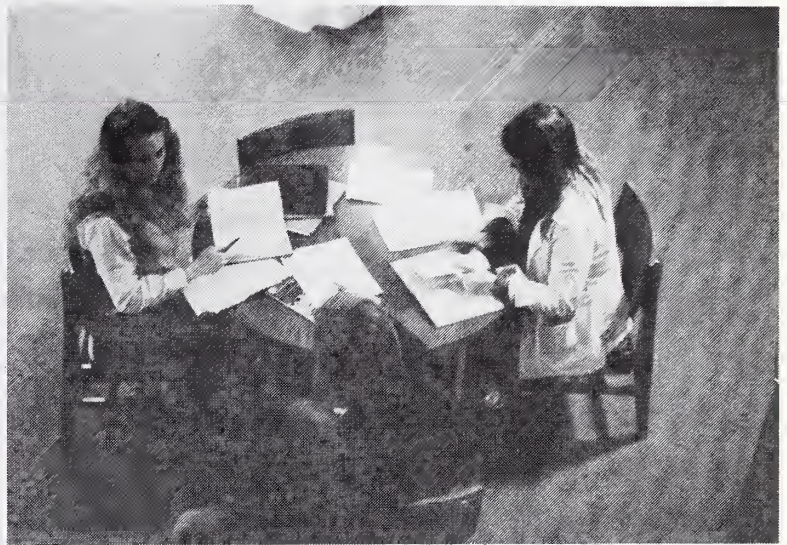

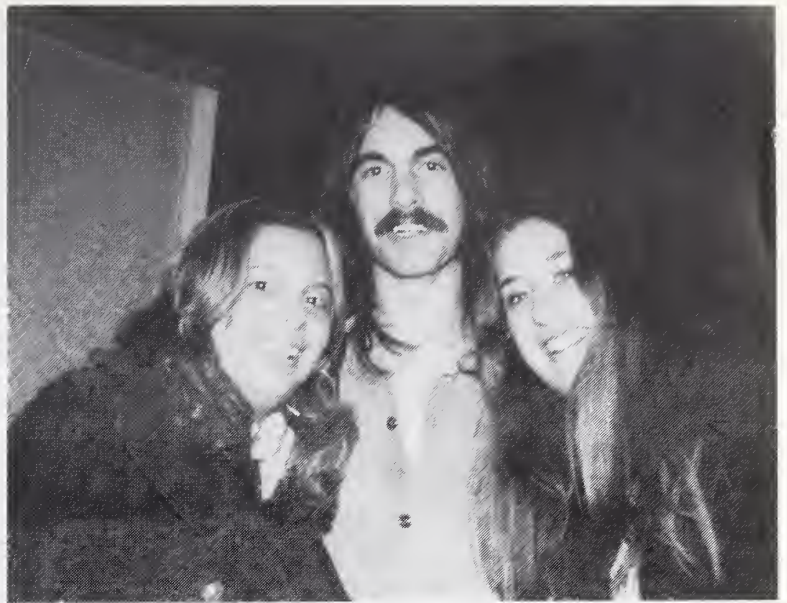

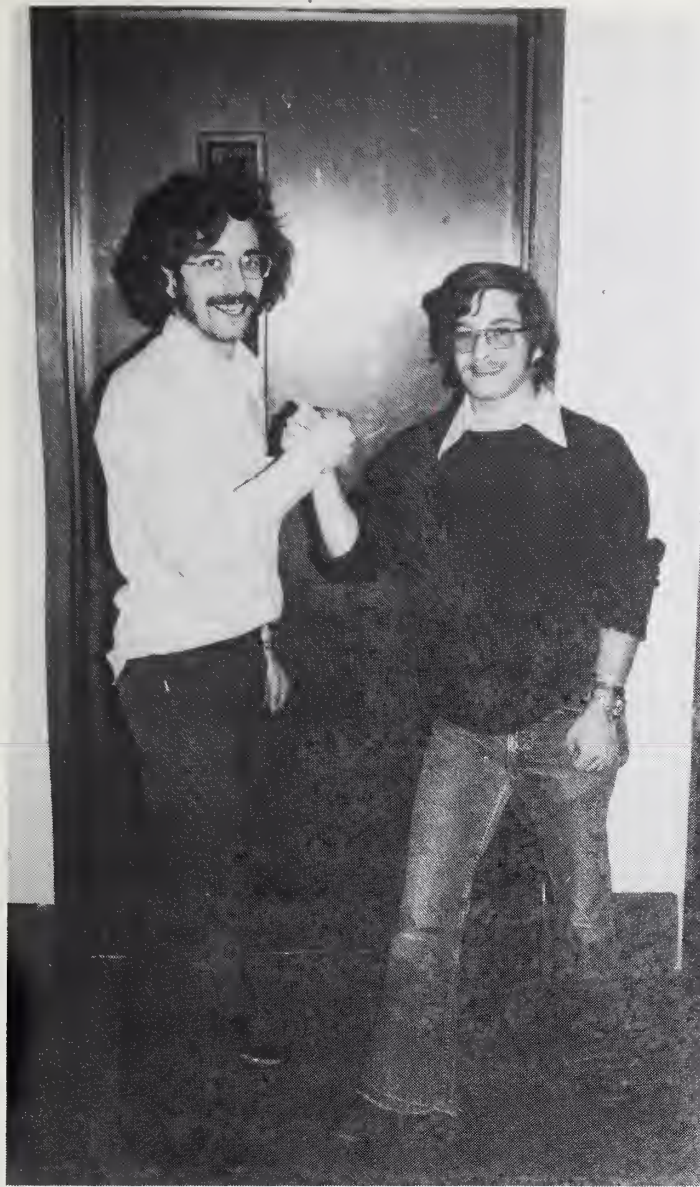

Lincoln College is fortunate to have among those who are part of its educational climate, outstanding teachers whose performance, energy, interest, and understanding, in and out of the classroom, make them examples of the excellence of which we are capable.

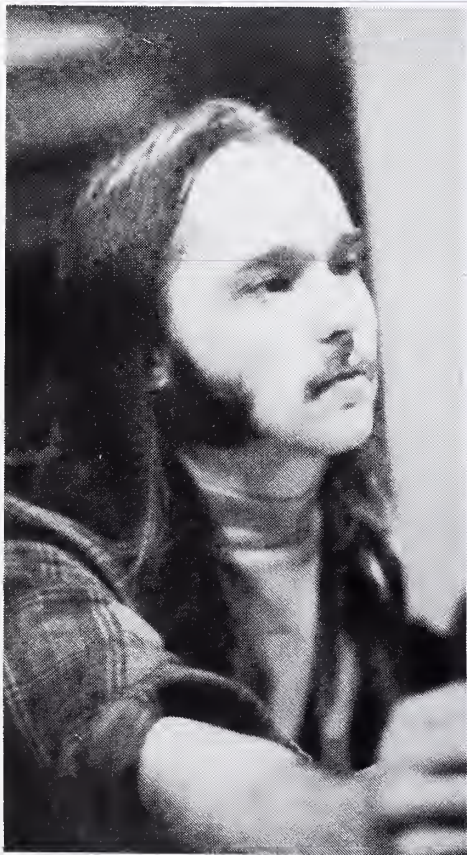

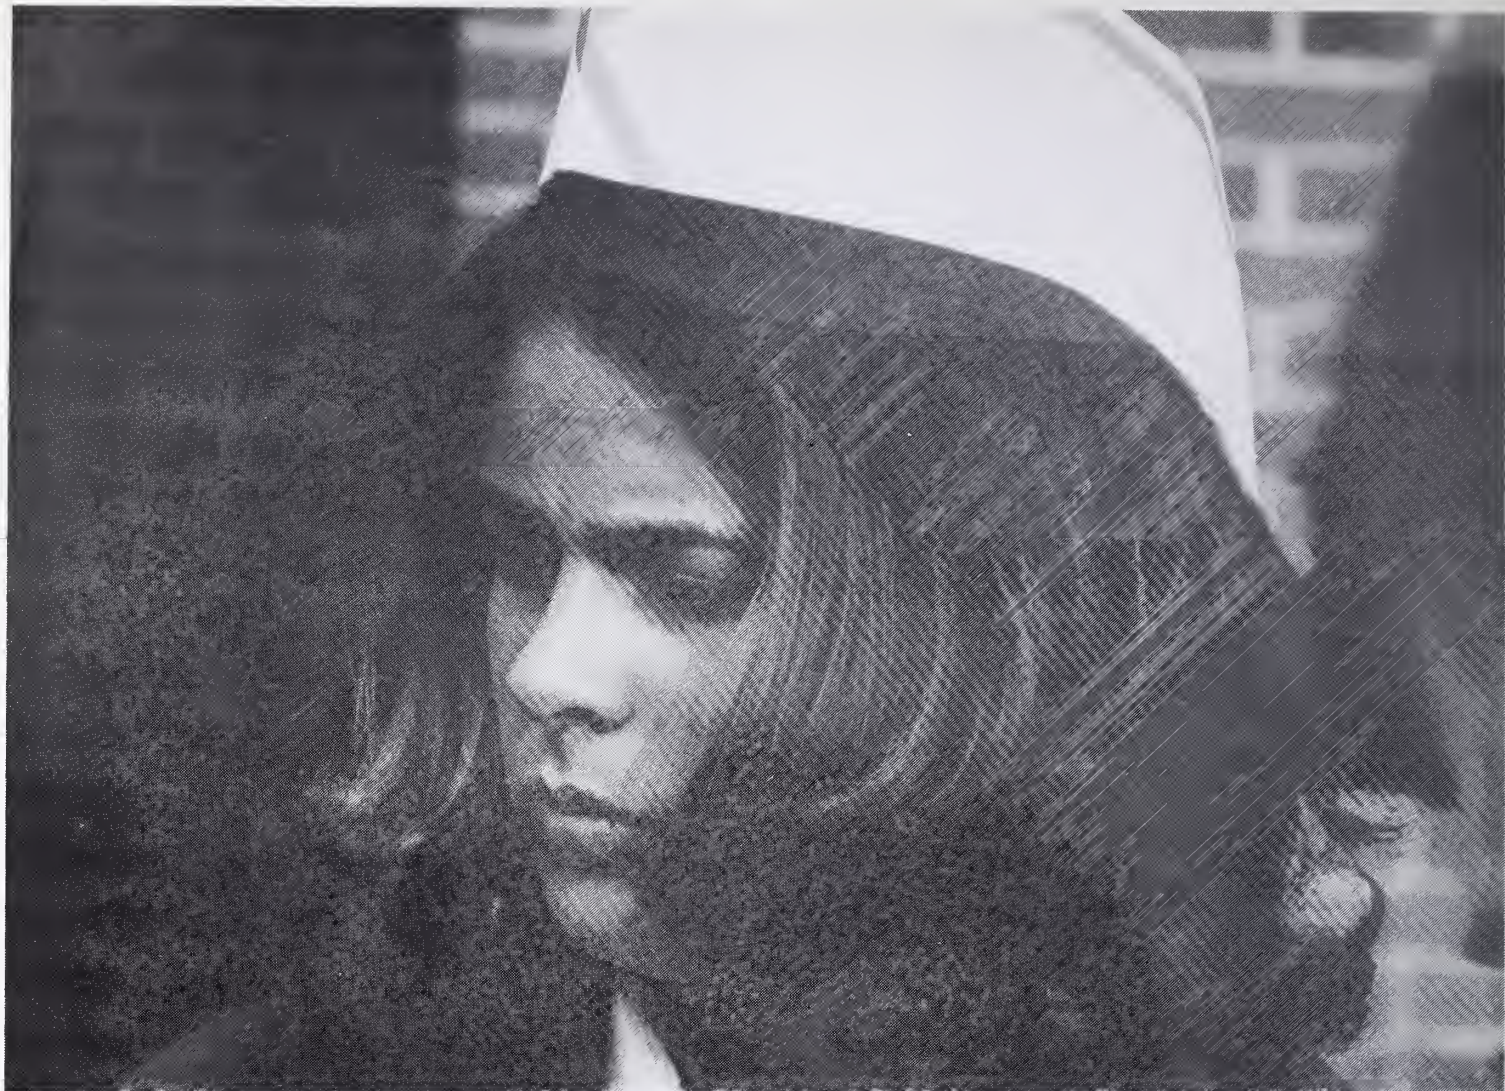

Respected by colleagues and associates, and voted by the student body as the Outstanding Teacher of 1973, it is my honor to present the Sang Teaching Award to Mr. Al Pickering.

SPECIAL EVENTS

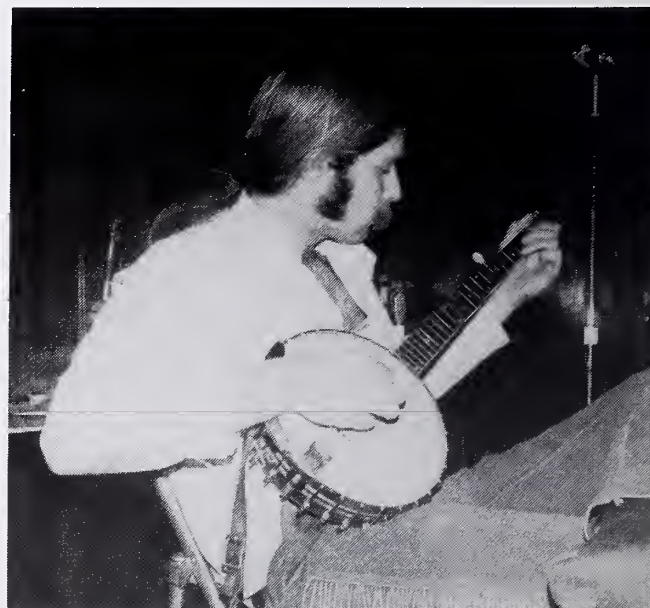

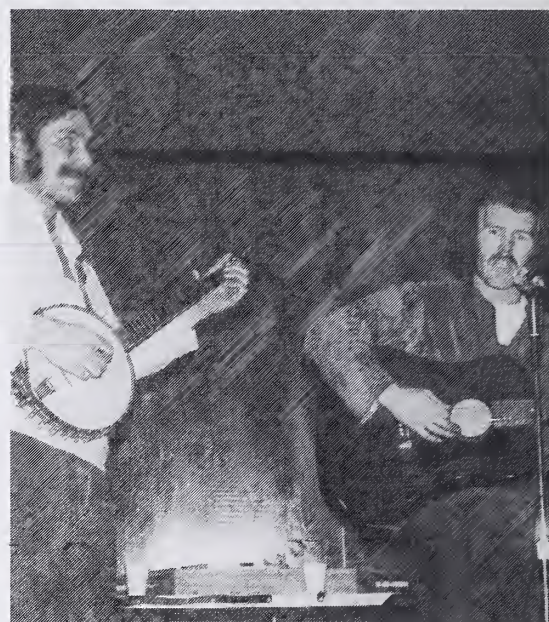

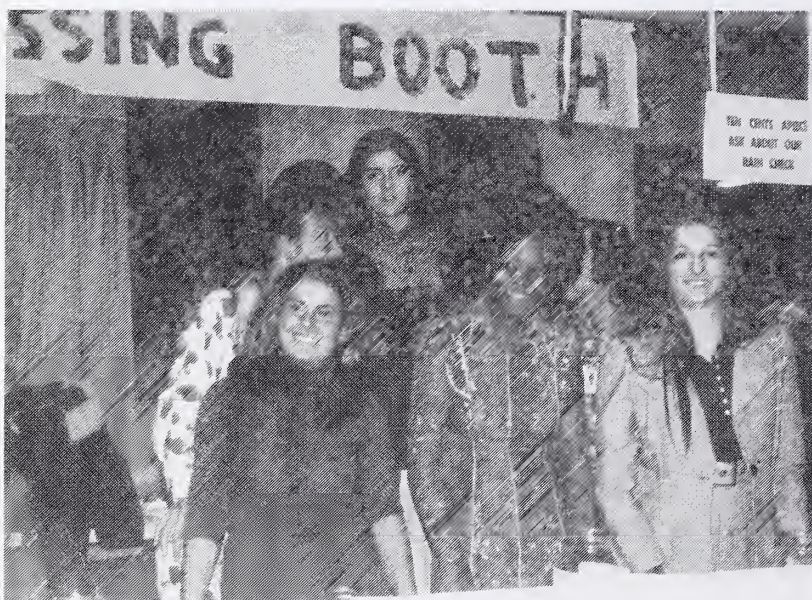

Mr. David Plowden, a professional photographer renowned for such work as his Sierra Club's "Floor of the Sky," was a visitor on the Lincoln College campus for several weeks. During his stay he instructed students in the art of photography, from darkroom to field work. A showing of many of Mr. Plowden's photographs was on display in the college's Little Gallery (above). For those who left the photographic shop talk to the professionals, they found David Plowden to be a very charismatic individual, full of passion for life, his profession, and leisure conversation. (Opposite page) Governor Dan Walker is seen delivering the graduation address to Lincoln College's Class of 1973.

The Coffee House, recently remodeled under the direction of Steve Daum (center of top left photo), had an open house to begin its new season. While the music and drink attracted large crowds, there seemed to be a never ending line in front of the "Kissing Booth." Responsible for its popularity were Lynn Sacuto, Dana Himmel, Vivica Williams, and Vicki Fischer. Congratulations on a job well done!

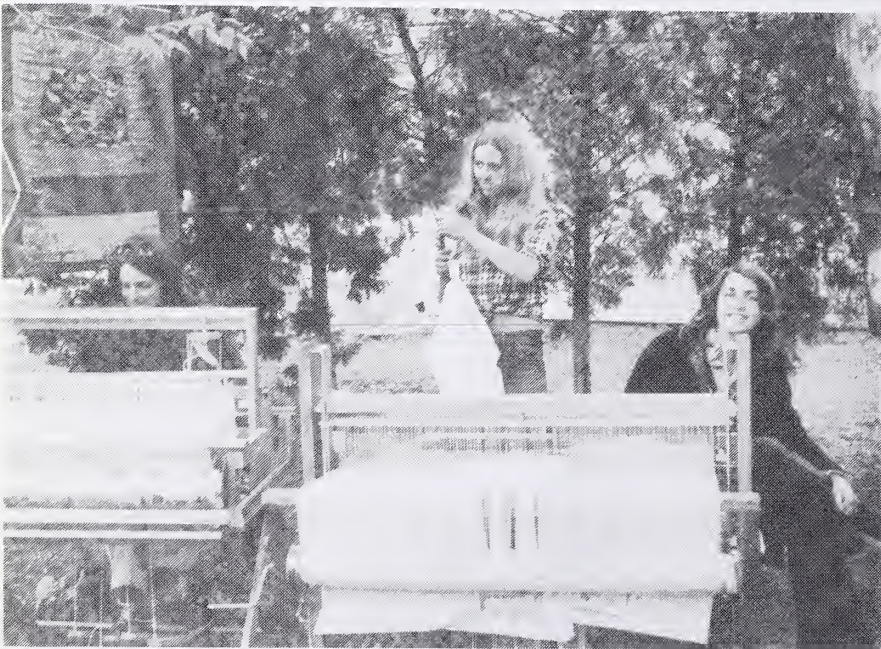

Lincoln College's Charter Day Convocation, recognizing the 108th anniversary of the school, was the occasion for the granting of two honorary doctorate degrees. One was given to Mr. John E. Wickman (left), curator of the Dwight D. Eisenhower Library in Abilene, Kansas and one to the main speaker at the convocation, Mr. Harry J. Middleton (right), curator of the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library in Austin, Texas.

At the Parents' Weekend Art Exhibit, Shirley Benson, Barb Stallard, and Katie Johnson demonstrate their fine art talents.

David Hahn, Bob Cadar, and Dan Couper hamming it up.

PRESIDENT'S SERVICE AWARDS

Awarded to Vice President Wilbur Layman (left) and Mr. Orlo McGeath, who in the performance of their work behind the scenes and in their devotion to Lincoln College, put forth that extra effort which makes our college a better place to be.
